Meet Mary Jane.. The IDEAL Shopper!

Even though we've been in the grocery business for a long time, we know a mere man could begin to know the actual problems facing the housewife with the tasks of creating 1,095 meals a year. That's some job. That's what we've secured the services of Mary Jane... who will give you each week her ideas on how you can make the task of market shopping easier. We're pledged to help her help you. That's our New Year's plan of better service for 1945!

HELLO FOLKS:

Today I just want to meet you. To say hello. To tell you that I like my new job here at the Ideal Ranch Market and I want to do everything in my power to help you.

Of course, I know that the thought most in your mind now is how you are going to feed your family all the good nourishing foods they need and still stay within your point budget... both blue and red.

Well, my dears, it can be done. I've taken the time to figure it all out for my own family, down to the last final point... and I am quite sure that you need not give one sleepless thought to it. Of course, you'll have to be careful... but most women are careful buyers today. So, really, with the use of your own good common sense, you'll make it through each point period with flying colors.

Mary Jane.
